

What does

SDAPCD do?

San Diego County Air Pollution Control District is organized into several divisions, each with different roles:

San Diego County
Air Pollution
Control District

Engineering and Permits

Office of Environmental Justice

Grants and Incentives

Planning and Rule Development

Compliance

Business and Administrative Support Services

SDAPCD regulates and monitors air quality to work towards healthy air for all San Diegans. The Office of Environmental Justice (OEJ) works with communities most heavily burdened by air pollution to improve air quality. Contact us if you would like to learn more about air quality in your community and ways to get involved!

apcdoutreach@sdapcd.org
(858) 586-2600
sdapcd.org/OEJ