

SAN DIEGO COUNTY AIR POLLUTION CONTROL DISTRICT

2019 & 2020

Air Toxic “Hot Spots” Annual Report

2021

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The California Air Toxics “Hot Spots” Information and Assessment Act (Hot Spots Act), Assembly Bill 2588, was enacted in 1987 to address public health risks from toxic air contaminants emitted by stationary sources. Toxic air contaminants are chemicals in the form of gases, liquids, or particles that are emitted into the atmosphere and, when exposed to, may cause adverse health effects. An example of a toxic air contaminant is diesel particulate matter (diesel PM), which is emitted from diesel engines¹. Adverse health effects can range from symptoms such as minor eye or throat irritation, shortness of breath or headaches that go away once a person is no longer exposed, to more permanent and serious conditions such as cancer, birth defects, or damage to the lungs, nerves, liver, heart, or other organs. The nature and severity of health effects vary by the type and quantity of pollutant, the duration of exposure, and the sensitivity of the individual.

The Hot Spots Act requires local air pollution control districts to evaluate toxic air contaminant emissions from various stationary sources and determine which sources generate emissions that may present public health concerns. It also requires facilities operators to notify communities and develop and implement strategies to reduce their potential health risks when those health risks are above specified levels.

The San Diego County Air Pollution Control District (District) is responsible for implementing the Air Toxics “Hot Spots” Program (Program) in San Diego County by: (1) evaluating emissions of toxic air contaminants from facilities and other stationary sources permitted by the District (including manufacturing operations, power plants, and other industrial, commercial and governmental operations); (2) categorizing and prioritizing toxic emissions from stationary sources to determine which sources should conduct a Health Risk Assessment to quantify the health risks; and, (3) implementing public notification and risk reduction requirements through District Rule 1210, which establishes public notification and risk reduction thresholds and procedures.

Under state law, the District is required to prepare an Annual Report of activities related to this Program. This report fulfills this requirement for calendar years 2019 and 2020 and describes the District’s ongoing efforts to regulate and reduce air toxic emissions. Table 1 summarizes and highlights key Program activities in 2019 and 2020.

³ This number includes approximately 2,200 industrywide inventories. A complete list of Emission Inventories approved in 2019 and 2020 is available in Appendix B

This report includes activities related to the Program for calendar years 2019 and 2020. As shown in Table 1, in 2019 and 2020 the District had to focus on the completion of approximately 2,600 emission inventories, which is an essential milestone to implement the requirements of this Program. As such, in 2020 the District did not have updates on public notification and risk reduction activities, and therefore a report was not published for activities related to the Program in 2019. The District understands the importance of implementing the requirements of this Program on a timely manner and its new leadership team has been implementing significant changes to prevent future delays.

The District released a draft 2019 & 2020 Air Toxics Hot Spot Report for public review and comments on April 1, 2021 and held a virtual public meeting on April 22, 2021 to obtain additional input from the public.

BACKGROUND

In 1987, the California legislature adopted the Air Toxics “Hot Spots” Information and Assessment Act (Hot Spots Act). The “Hot Spots Act” was proposed under Assembly Bill 2588 to establish requirements for obtaining airborne emissions of toxic air contaminants from stationary sources and evaluating the potential public health impacts of those emissions.

The California Air Resources Board (CARB) developed the Air Toxics “Hot Spots” Program (Program) requirements; however, local air districts are required to implement and enforce the requirements by applying guidance developed by the State Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA), the California Air Pollution Control Officers Association (CAPCOA) and CARB. The District is responsible for implementing the requirements of the Program in San Diego County, which include this progress report on the Program.

In September 1992, the Hot Spots Act was amended by Senate Bill 1731 to require the operator of “significant risk” facilities to reduce their risks below the level of significance, which is set by each air district in California and is reflected in their individually adopted risk reduction thresholds. District Rule 1210 was first adopted and implemented by the District Board on June 12, 1996 to establish the public notification and risk reduction thresholds and procedures.

Rule 1210 regulates facilities for the following four types of public health risks:

- Cancer risk is a calculation of the probability that a person would contract cancer if exposed to a stationary source’s emissions for 30 years, assuming that the emissions remain constant over that time period. It is expressed as the number of chances in one million of developing cancer. For example, a cancer risk of one in one million indicates a likelihood that up to one person, out of one million equally exposed people, would contract cancer.⁵ Currently District Rule 1210 requires public notification when the cancer risk from the stationary source is equal to or greater than 10 in one million, and cancer risk reduction when the risk is equal to or greater than 100 in one million. Risk reduction generally entails reducing or controlling emissions of toxic air contaminants in order to reduce public exposure to them.

⁵ This is in addition to cancer cases that are normally expected to occur in the population when all other possible causes are taken into account. For every one-million people in the United States, approximately 400,000 will get cancer during their lifetimes <https://www.cancer.org/content/dam/cancer-org/research/cancer-facts-and-statistics/annual-cancer-facts-and-figures/2020/cancer-facts-and-figures-2020.pdf> page 2

- Total Acute and Chronic Noncancer Health Hazard Indices. The noncancer health hazard index is calculated by dividing the estimated level of exposure to chemicals emitted from a stationary source to the level of exposure that is not expected to cause any adverse health effects. If the hazard index is below one, then the estimated level of exposure is not likely to result in adverse health effects for anyone, including sensitive individuals such as children and the elderly. A hazard index of equal to or greater than one indicates that there may be greater potential for adverse health impacts from exposure to the toxic air contaminants of concern. A hazard index is calculated for both acute (short-term or one hour) and chronic (long-term, lasting years to a lifetime) exposures to air toxic contaminants from stationary sources. District Rule 1210 requires public notification and risk reduction when any of the noncancer health hazard indices is equal to or greater than 1.
- Cancer burden estimates the number of potential excess cancer cases within the population that would be exposed to the toxic emissions for a lifetime (70 years). The cancer burden is calculated on the basis of lifetime (70-year) risks (whereas individual cancer risk is based on 30-year residential exposure).⁶ District Rule 1210 requires public notification and risk reduction when the cancer burden is equal to or greater than 1.

The State of California has a total of 35 local air districts and out of these 35 air districts, the top five largest districts include: San Diego County Air Pollution Control District (APCD); San Joaquin Valley APCD (which includes all of Fresno, Kings, Madera, Merced, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Tulare, and Valley air basin portions of Kern counties); South Coast Air Quality Management District (AQMD), which includes all of Orange County, and the non-desert portions of Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Riverside counties; Bay Area AQMD (which includes Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, western portion of Solano, southern portion of Sonoma counties), and; Sacramento Metropolitan AQMD (which includes all of Sacramento County). Out of the top 5 largest districts, San Diego and San Joaquin are the only districts that have a 100 in one million risk reduction threshold. South Coast AQMD has a 25 in one million risk reduction threshold and Sacramento and Bay Area have a 10 in one million risk reduction threshold.

In May 2019, the San Diego County Air Pollution Control Board directed the District staff to evaluate the current regulatory threshold to implement cancer risk reduction requirements (100 in one million) under District Rule 1210 and implement a regulatory process to amend District Rule 1210⁷ to better protect public health. This regulatory process involves industry and community partners to obtain input on and analyze reducing the threshold for risk reduction requirements. The District is expected to return to the Board in October of 2021 with an update and a proposal to amend Rule 1210⁸.

The scientific knowledge and understanding continues to develop about the effects of toxic air contaminants on the human body; as such, in 2015, OEHHA refined its methodology by incorporating the latest science in toxics exposure duration, age-based sensitivity factors, and the varying breathing rates of different age groups⁹. These changes may result in estimates of higher risks to public health than previously calculated (even if a facility's emissions and other conditions have remained unchanged), as the updated risk calculation methodologies consider the latest health science and above-listed factors.

AIR TOXIC HOT SPOTS PROGRAM

Within a four-year period, approximately 3,000 facilities located in San Diego County are evaluated under the Program.

During 2019 and 2020 CARB had listed approximately 800 compounds that are assessed under the Program and are potentially carcinogenic (may contribute to cancer risk) or may cause acute (short-term) and/or chronic (long-term) noncancer health effects¹⁰. Toxic air contaminant emissions have varying degrees of potential harm. Under the Program each air contaminant's level of emissions and exposure and its toxicity or potency must be evaluated to determine potential risk and identify any health concerns.

Stationary source emission estimates, by stationary source, are available on the District's website¹¹ or in Appendix B (for stationary sources inventoried in 2019 and 2020). Stationary source emissions inventories are also available upon request by contacting the District at apcdengineering@sdcountry.ca.gov or at (858) 586-2600. Additionally, Assembly Bill 423 (2019, Gloria; Cal. Health and Safety Code section 40100.6.5(a)(1)(F)) requires the District to post all documents related to the Program on its website by December of 2021.

The Program includes the following key elements: Emission Inventory, Prioritization, Health Risk Assessments, Public Notifications, and Risk Reduction Audits and Plans. Figures 1, 2 and 3 show all steps involved in the implementation of the Program and associated timelines (established in state and local rules). In accordance with these timelines, generally it takes a few years to fully implement the requirements of this Program.

Health risk assessments estimate the health risks from exposures to emissions of toxic air contaminants into the air. Based on these health risks the District implements public notification and risk reduction requirements in accordance with District Rule 1210 (public notification and risk reduction thresholds are also listed in Table 5). Figures 2 and 3 show the steps involved in the implementation of public notification and risk reduction requirements.

Table 2 summarizes the overall timeline (discussed under Figures 1, 2, and 3) to fully implement the requirements of the Program in accordance with the regulatory deadlines in state and local rules. The implementation process begins during the calendar year subsequent to the year under evaluation (i.e. the year when the toxic air contaminant emissions under evaluation occurred). Based on the regulatory deadlines, it takes 2.5 to 3 years to fully implement the requirements of this Program.

Table 2 Overall Timeline to Fully Implement the Requirements of the Program

The District has issued Notices of Violations to facilities for failing to meet the timelines related to the implementation of the Program in accordance with state and local regulations. The Notices of Violations issued since 2019 are listed in Appendix A-3.

A Notice of Violation is the District's claim that the District's rules, and/or state or federal air pollution laws, have been violated. As provided in state law, a Notice of Violation may result in monetary penalties civil suit, or in serious cases, criminal prosecution. California Health and Safety Code (H&SC) specifies maximum penalties for violations of state and District laws, and rules and permits based on level of culpability. Generally, the penalties are specified in H&S Section 42400 et seq. which include strict liability (maximum of $10,000 per day for each violation), negligence (maximum of $25,000 per day for each violation), knowing of emissions, failing to correct (maximum of $40,000 per day for each violation), willful & intentional (maximum of $75,000 per day for each violation), and willful & intentional or reckless disregard for risk of great bodily injury or death ($125,000 - $1 million per day for each violation). In determining the amount assessed and per H&SC 42403, the District is required to take into consideration all relevant circumstances, including but not limited to: extent of harm, nature and persistence of violation, length of time, frequency of past violations, record of maintenance, unproven/innovative nature of control equipment, action taken to mitigate the violation, and financial burden.

The following sections specifically discuss key elements of this Program: (1) Emission Inventory, (2) Prioritization, (3) Health Risk Assessments, (4) Public Notifications, and Risk Reduction Audits and Plans.

1. Emission Inventory Reports

The emission inventory process begins in January of each calendar year when the District requests emission data (such as usage records) from the facilities subject to this Program for the previous calendar year. The District utilizes the emission data provided by facilities to calculate emissions. Once the emissions are calculated facilities have an opportunity to review and comment on the emission inventory report before it is approved by the District.

There are a total of approximately 3,000 facilities that are required to update their inventories of toxic emissions at least once every four years per the Emission Inventory Criteria and Guidelines for the Air Toxics “Hot Spots” Program¹², which provides directions for facilities to compile and submit air toxic emission data to local districts. The requirements within the CARB Emission Inventory Guidelines have been incorporated by reference into Title 17 of the California Code of Regulations and thus are enforceable by air districts and CARB.

The facilities under the Program includes: (1) larger stationary sources (approximately 400 facilities), which are subject to individual reporting requirements and (2) smaller industrial and commercial businesses (gas stations, emergency diesel only sources, autobody shops, perc dry cleaners, etc.), which are in the industrywide source (IWS) categories¹³. The next emission calculations for IWS categories are being conducted in 2021.

The calculated emissions of Toxic Air Contaminants for stationary sources inventoried in 2019 and 2020 are presented in Appendix B of this report.

2. Prioritization

Once the emission inventory reports are completed (i.e. the toxic emissions are quantified by the District, reviewed by the facility, and approved by the District), the Program requires air districts to prioritize and categorize the stationary source emissions to determine if a health risk assessment is required within 90 days from when the emission inventory report is approved. The District utilizes a prioritization procedure¹⁴ which takes into consideration potency, toxicity, quantity of emissions, proximity of the stationary source to potential receptors, and any other factor that the District finds may influence the stationary source’s potential risk posed to surrounding businesses and residences. Each stationary source prioritization score is evaluated individually and placed in either Category A (high priority), Category B (intermediate priority) or Category C (low priority) based upon the total score and thresholds as shown in Table 3.

Stationary sources categorized as “high” are subject to health risk assessment requirements. Sources categorized as “intermediate” may be subject to health risk assessment requirements based on additional factors or further evaluation. Facilities categorized as “low” are not subject to health risk assessment requirements.

	Score < 1	Category C

The calculated prioritization scores for stationary sources inventoried in 2019 and 2020 are presented in Appendix B of this report.

3. Health Risk Assessments

A health risk assessment estimates the risk of adverse health effects (cancer and noncancer) from exposures to emissions of toxic air contaminants into the air¹⁵. The estimated risks are based on District approved emission calculations and computer models that account for a variety of health protective assumptions.

In accordance with the California Health and Safety Code, Section 44362, health risk assessments are to be conducted by operators of stationary sources (within 180 from a District request) and approved by the District in consultation with OEHHA (within one year from the submittal of the Health Risk Assessment). OEHHA is the scientific branch of the California Environmental Protection Agency (CalEPA) which evaluates the effects of toxic compounds, and develops health-protective exposure levels and health risk assessment guidelines¹⁶.

In March of 2015, OEHHA enhanced its health risk assessment guidelines to reflect scientific advances in the field of toxic exposures, health effects, and risk assessment, along with explicit consideration of younger population, including infants and children below the age of 2.

A list of facilities with health risks assessments that the District requested and approved in 2019 and 2020 is presented in Appendix A. Table 4 lists all facilities for which the District approved a Health Risk Assessment in 2019 and 2020 (for more details regarding the Health Risk Assessments please see Appendix A-2)

In addition to approving Health Risk Assessments, the District requested Health Risk Assessments from approximately 50 facilities in 2019 and 2020. The District worked with some of these facilities to further refine their emission calculations and/or receptor distances (as described in Appendix A-2) and as a result, some of these facilities are no longer required to conduct a Health Risk Assessment. Figure 5 shows a map with all facilities that are still required to conduct a Health Risk Assessment under the Program, based on requests made by the District in 2019 and 2020.

4. Public Notification & Risk Reduction Audits and Plans

Public notification is a core element of the Program as it ensures the public's right to know about possible health risks from exposure to toxic air contaminants emitted by stationary sources of air pollution in their communities. The Health and Safety Code, Section 44362(b), requires the operator of stationary sources to provide notice to all exposed persons above certain risk thresholds regarding the results of the health risk assessment if the local air district determines there is significant health risk from the stationary source.

In 1992, the Hot Spots Act was amended by Senate Bill 1731 to require each air district to specify the significant risk level, above which risk reduction would be required. The requirements of SB 1731 are found in Health and Safety Code, Sections 44390 through 44394. The requirements are for stationary sources operators to audit and identify the source of toxic emissions and risk, then develop and implement a plan to reduce the emissions and risk.

District Rule 1210 establishes thresholds and procedures for public notification and risk reduction requirements. All public notification and risk reduction thresholds are presented on Table 5.

Table 5: Public Notification and Risk Reduction Thresholds

Health Risk	Public Notification Threshold	Risk Reduction Threshold
Cancer Risk	10 in one million	100 in one million

Health Risk	Public Notification Threshold	Risk Reduction Threshold
Acute Noncancer Health Hazard Index	1.0	1.0
Chronic Noncancer Health Hazard Index	1.0	1.0
Cancer Burden	1.0	1.0

- Cancer risk is a calculation of the probability that a person would contract cancer if exposed to a stationary source's emissions for 30 years, assuming that the emissions remain constant over that time period. It is expressed as the number of chances in one million of developing cancer. For example, a cancer risk of one in one million indicates a likelihood that up to one person, out of one million equally exposed people, would contract cancer.²³ Currently District Rule 1210 requires public notification when the cancer risk from the stationary source is equal to or greater than 10 in one million, and cancer risk reduction when the risk is equal to or greater than 100 in one million.
- The noncancer health hazard index is calculated by dividing the estimated level of exposure to chemicals emitted from a stationary source to the level of exposure that is not expected to cause any adverse health effects. If the hazard index is below one, then the estimated level of exposure is not likely to result in adverse health effects for anyone, including sensitive individuals such as children and the elderly. A hazard index of equal to or greater than one indicates that there may be greater potential for adverse health impacts from exposure to the toxic air contaminants of concern. A hazard index is calculated for both acute (short-term or one hour) and chronic (long-term, lasting years to a lifetime) exposures to air toxic contaminants from stationary sources. District Rule 1210 requires public notification and risk reduction when any of the noncancer health hazard indices is equal to or greater than 1.
- Cancer burden estimates the number of potential excess cancer cases within the population that would be exposed to the toxic emissions for a lifetime (70 years). The cancer burden is calculated on the basis of lifetime (70-year) risks (whereas individual cancer risk is based on 30-year residential exposure).²⁴ District Rule 1210 requires public notification and risk reduction when the cancer burden is equal to or greater than 1.

Based on the health risk levels in the Health Risk Assessments approved by the District in 2019 and 2020, the operators of facilities listed in Table 6 have been required by the District to develop and implement a risk reduction plan and/or conduct public notification.

²³ This is in addition to cancer cases that are normally expected to occur in the population when all other possible causes are taken into account. For every one-million people in the United States, approximately 400,000 will get cancer during their lifetimes

In accordance with District Rule 1210, within 45 days of the date of written notice from the District that public notification is required, the owner or operator of a stationary source shall prepare and submit to the District, for approval, a public notification plan. The owner or operator of a stationary source subject to public notification requirements shall implement the stationary source public notification plan, as approved by the District, within 30 days of the date of written notice from the District of such approval.

District Rule 1210 also establishes procedures for risk reduction requirements. Specifically, within six months of receipt of written notice from the District that a stationary source is subject to risk reduction requirements, the owner or operator shall submit a risk reduction audit and plan to the District. Since this plan generally involves changes to the processes to reduce the health risks, a permit application is required by the District to propose these changes in accordance with District Rule 10.

The District is currently involved in litigation with one of the facilities that was requested by the District to conduct public notification and submit a risk reduction plan. This facility is not included in this table as the District is preliminarily enjoined from requiring or providing notice related to this Program until the court has made a final determination whether the District's public-notification request to the facility was valid. ³⁶ Cancer risk is expressed in terms of the increased number of chances in one million of developing cancer

³⁷ Cancer burden is an estimate of the number of potential excess cancer cases within the population that would be exposed to the emissions.

The biennial public notification status is presented on Table 9.

TOXIC AIR CONTAMINANTS AMBIENT MONITORING

The District has sampled for ambient toxic air contaminants at the El Cajon and Chula Vista air monitoring stations since the mid-1980s⁴². These stations measure ambient air concentrations and, therefore, the ambient concentrations are contributions from multiple sources of air pollution that fall into one of the following categories: on-road and off-road vehicles, trains, ships, and planes, as well as stationary sources (industrial, commercial and governmental operations regulated by the District), area sources (such as residential fuel combustion, consumer products use, construction and demolition, and commercial cooking) and natural sources.

Although diesel particulate matter (DPM) contributes significantly to ambient air risk levels⁴³, it is not included in the ambient air risk results because it is comprised of many individual compounds and cannot be analyzed as a single compound. DPM has a significant impact on California's population. It is estimated that about 70% of total known cancer risk related to air toxics in California is attributable to DPM⁴⁴.

A summary of recent ambient air risk results determined by CARB from the Chula Vista and El Cajon monitoring stations is provided in Figure 6. CARB publishes a complete statewide annual summary of toxic emissions by location⁴⁵

ONGOING EFFORTS TO REDUCE HEALTH RISKS

Federal Level

At the federal level, the 1990 Clean Air Act (CAA) Amendments required the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to develop nationwide control measures for air toxics. The CAA now lists 187 substances as hazardous air pollutants (HAPs) and the EPA develops the federal National Emissions Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAPs) and Maximum Achievable Control Technologies (MACT) for new, modified, as well as existing, Major and Area (Non-major) sources of HAPs⁴⁷. The District implements these federal requirements for major and area (non-major) stationary sources in San Diego County.

State Level

In March of 2015, the OEHHA refined its methodologies for conducting health risk assessments, known as *The Air Toxics Hot Spots Program Guidance Manual for Preparation of Health Risk Assessments*⁴⁸, by incorporating the latest science in toxics exposure duration, age-based sensitivity factors, and the varying breathing rates of different age groups. This change has resulted in additional public notifications and risk reduction plans to further reduce toxic air contaminants and increase public health protection. The District began implementing these updates starting with the 2013 emission inventories and HRA evaluation period.

Pursuant to Assembly Bill 1807 (AB 1807 - Toxics Air Contaminant Identification and Control), CARB in collaboration with OEHHA and Scientific Review Panel evaluate the potential for human exposure and health effects of toxic substances emitted into the air to determine which ones should be identified as Toxic Air Contaminants (TACs). Once a substance is identified as a TAC, CARB continues to develop Airborne Toxic Control Measures (ATCMs), which establish standards to control and reduce toxic air emissions from mobile and stationary sources. Once ATCMs are adopted by CARB, the local air districts must implement those new standards⁴⁹.

CARB regulates consumer products such as cleaners and spray paints that contain air toxics and is continually evaluating and implementing strategies to reduce emissions from these products⁵⁰. CARB also regulates vehicle fuels and motor vehicle emissions, and the evolution of cleaner, low-emission and zero-emission vehicles is an important step in reducing toxic air contaminants and improving overall air quality.

On November 19, 2020 the CARB Board approved amendments to the Emission Inventory Criteria and Guidelines (EICG) Report for the Air Toxics “Hot Spots” Program, but also directed CARB staff to pursue additional changes⁵¹. The primary purpose of the proposed EICG amendments is to provide CARB and air districts with a better understanding of stationary source emissions, enhance the public access to information on toxic pollutant emissions, and further reduce their impacts on public health by ensuring that many new and emerging chemicals of concern are reported. The proposed amendments would also expand the applicability requirements to bring new facilities into the emission inventory program.

In response to Assembly Bill 617 (AB 617) [C. Garcia, Chapter 16, Statutes of 2017], CARB established the Community Air Protection Program⁵². The program's mission is to reduce exposure to air contaminants in communities based on environmental, health and socioeconomic information. This first-of-its-kind statewide effort requires community air monitoring, community emission reduction plans, and incentive funding to deploy the cleanest technologies in the most impacted areas. The District is implementing this program locally⁵³.

Local Level

District Rule 1210 – Toxic Air Contaminant Public Health Risks – Public Notification and Risk Reduction

In May 2019, the San Diego County Air Pollution Control Board directed the District staff to evaluate the current regulatory threshold to implement cancer risk reduction requirements (100 in one million) under District Rule 1210 and implement a regulatory process to amend District Rule 1210⁵⁴ to better protect public health. This regulatory process involves industry and community partners to obtain input on and analyze reducing the threshold for risk reduction requirements. The District is expected to return to the Board in October of 2021 with an update and a proposal to amend Rule 1210⁵⁵.

Rule 1200 – Toxic Air Contaminants – New Source Review

District Rule 1200 regulates potential public health risks from new and expanding business operations. On average the District evaluates 400 applications annually subject to Rule 1200, which establishes the following health risk thresholds applicable to increases in the potential toxic air contaminant emissions:

- Cancer Health Risk- 1 in a million or 10 in a million if the operation is equipped with toxics best available control technology (T-BACT)
- Total Acute Noncancer Health Risk – 1 health hazard index
- Total Chronic Noncancer Health Risk – 1 health hazard index

The health risk thresholds listed above for cancer, and noncancer acute (short-term) and chronic (long-term) are intended to limit the increased health risks (above normal background levels) caused by exposure to a chemical that may cause adverse health effects. The excess health risk thresholds are expressed as the probability of a resident or worker developing adverse health conditions.

Mobile Source Enforcement

While the Air Toxic Hot Spots Program does not apply to mobile sources of air pollution (including on-road and off-road vehicles) these sources contribute significantly to air emissions⁵⁶ in the County, especially oxides of nitrogen (a precursor to ozone pollution) and diesel particulate matter (a known carcinogen). In order to reduce emissions from mobile sources, the District has entered into agreements with CARB to enforce regulations pertaining to diesel on-road and off-road vehicles. Having the District ensure the state's rules to reduce emissions from mobile sources are as effective as they are designed to be is of paramount importance to the County's air quality and public health protection both from a toxics perspective and in meeting the National Ambient Air Quality Standard for ozone.

Incentives Program

Additionally, the District provides millions of dollars in grants each year through its incentives program⁵⁷ to clean up and/or replace diesel powered vehicles, agricultural equipment, marine vessels, locomotives, and construction equipment, to name a few. These diesel emission reductions play a significant role in reducing health risk.
